

The «Château de Vigny» has had an emblematic place in the history of France since 1504...

The castle and all its communes have been registered historical monuments since 1984. The park is also classified. Through history, it has been the cradle of great French families, however, today it is in a state of ruin. General decay and dry rot have rendered the outbuildings and structures into a state of disrepair.

The castel by itself, as well as the mansion of life County, are in the process of significant restoration. It is a vast project for this castel which contains more than 160 rooms.

This is a unique jewel in the Île-de-France region that we must save from ruin.
